Today they gave 30 members to Zal caldron. Now Amoo caldron has 500 members. The Kansas City auxiliary was created last September and the Bay City organization formed last October. Robert Reisdale of this city and Paul Lundberg of Moline wrote the ritual for Amoo caldron. The degree work is put on by a staff of 75 members. ENGINEERS SEE NEED OF FUNDS AT UNIVERSITY

E. M. Michaelis Tells Tri-City Chapter of Conditions at State Institution.

The urgent need of larger appropriations by the University of Illinois, Urbana, cannot be doubted. E. M. Michaelis of Rock Island told members of the tri-city chapter of the American Association of Engineers in session last evening at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Mr. Michaelis was sent by the tri-city chapter to attend the special committee meeting of the national association held at the university to inquire into the needs of the state institution, so that the organization members in Illinois can take up the question with their respective representatives and senators in the state legislature.

While at the university Mr. Michaelis had conferences with Dean Jordan and C. M. McConnell, assistant to President David Kinley. Mr. Michaelis from the statistics gathered, concluded that the activities of the institution were divided into three parts, that of teaching the students of doing research work and of training investigators to follow up this research work. He told the tri-city chapter how the university gets its income, the increased enrollment, the rooming conditions, and of the work which is to be carried because of the lack of funds.

A. J. Wagner of Rock Island, the chapter's representative to the forum, was last evening instructed to vote for the state police proposition. The organization was unanimous in favor of the proposition.

Near Convention Report.
The central branch W. C. T. U. held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. When Mrs. Andrew Dahlen gave a splendid report of the state convention held recently in Quincy. She reported that there are over 13,000 members in the state, over 2,000 being secured last year. Seven hundred thousand dollars of the million dollar drive has been raised and 25 counties in the state have gone over the top, but Illinois is still behind. The Rock Island essay took the state prize. Miss Helen Hood of Evanston was re-elected president again this year. She has held the office for a number of years. The next meeting will be in Springfield.

Mrs. R. L. Baird has been named treasurer for the annual dues and the members are asked to make their payments to her.

Personal Points

Captain E. L. West of Chicago, veteran official of the railway mail service, was a caller at the Rock Island postoffice today. Captain West's mission being to consult the postmasters of Rock Island and Moline in reference to the dispatching of registers and in regard to the safeguards being taken to protect them. His mission follows closely the robbery of railway mail pouches at Council Bluffs Saturday. Captain West said that he was confident that the sum was nowhere near as large as reported. He was sure, he said, that there was no bullion in the pouches and was confident that the bandits would be apprehended soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin A. Redman of Providence, R. I., who have been visiting with Mr. Redman's mother, Mrs. Frances R. Stevens and his sister, Miss Ora Redman, at 312 Eleventh street, have gone to Chicago. They will locate in that city.

CHECK FORGER JAILED BY WIT OF LOCAL GIRL

Miss Ethel M. Copperstein Successfully Pleads Arrest at Simon & Landauer Store.

Miss Ethel M. Copperstein, 727 Ninth street, is the heroine of capture of John A. Brose, bad check artist, wanted in many Illinois cities as well as Rock Island to answer charges of fraud. Brose is being held in the Davenport police jail without bond.

About 5 o'clock last evening Brose entered the Simon & Landauer store in Davenport. Miss Copperstein was waiting on the man at the time. As he handed her the bogus check, Miss Copperstein detected the falsity of the bank note and detained Brose until she had time to notify the police.

When police arrived and searched Brose they found $327 on his person. When questioned he attempted to escape identity by lying, but became too confused. All evidence against him pointed to his guilt.

With the capture of Brose it is believed that the bad check epidemic which has been going on in the tri-city has been stopped. The Rock Island Chamber of Commerce had been notified to be on the lookout and through the columns of The Argus the public was notified of the fraud yesterday.

MONTHLY DINNER TO BE FOSTERED BY ASSOCIATION

The board of directors of the Rock Island Chamber of Commerce in noon meeting today decided upon the monthly dinner as a feature of the organization's activities during the winter. A member from each bureau of the chamber is to be appointed to serve on a committee whose duties will be to arrange all dinner programs.

The board placed the chamber on record as favoring the passage of a state police bill and pledged the support of the association to the Illinois Chamber of Commerce in its furtherance. In making its decision the board considered only the sentiment as expressed by individual members and members of the public forum. Replies received from individuals showed 215 for and only four against the bill. Six members of the public forum voted for the bill, one is noncommittal and three did not vote.

The board voted to submit part of the chamber rooms to the United States marine recruiting service.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The organization of "discussion groups" was the main feature at the meeting of the Hi Y last evening. At the next meeting Rev. Launcelot Hadaway and Arnold Law will be in charge of the leading discussions and will speak on the comparison of the boys of today with those of the Old Testament and on the problems of the high school boy. There was a attendance of about 25 present last night. Hi Y meets every week but "discussion groups" will be featured only every two weeks.

LARGE NUMBER EAGLES ENJOY VENISON DISH

Story Has It That Young Buck Was Struck and Killed by Ferry Boat.

About three hundred Eagles last night sat down to a repast at the lodge rooms at which venison comprised the piece de resistance. The feast of young deer was sprung as a surprise on the membership, and in the way it was appreciated it was consumed to the accompaniment of snacking lips and audible sighs of satisfaction.

The members were considerably surprised to learn how "game" the venison spread, and incredulity was expressed when it was learned that Cap Henderson's ferry boat had struck the deer while it was swimming down the Mississippi recently. The young-buck had evidently entered the stream from some point in Wisconsin or Minnesota.

Here's a New Way to Stuff Your Turkey--

It is a prize recipe. It comes all the way from Italy. Here is its history: There is a little village near Florence which is called Arcetri. It is perched high on the hills that overlook the beautiful old city on the Arno.

Arcetri is famous for its Christmas turkeys. People from all over Italy travel there to eat this wonderful epicurean dish.

It is said to have been originated by an old abbot of the Certosa, a famous monastery of Arcetri.

This old monk liked to live well. One day he was expecting a visit from Cardinal de Medici.

To honor this exalted guest he devised the recipe we are giving you.

The Cardinal told of it. Soon it became known everywhere. Now it is served at the countryside inns of Arcetri. People come from far to eat it. Here is the recipe:

For an ordinary 10-pound turkey.

- 1 lb. bulk sausage
- 1 lb. chestnuts
- 2 stalks celery
- 1 small onion
- 1 large loaf stale bread
- 12 olives
- Salt, pepper, pinch of thyme, pinch of marjoram, 3 sprigs parsley

Soak the bread in enough milk to moisten so that it can easily be handled. Run celery, onion and olives through meat grinder after cutting out stones from olives. Roast chestnuts enough to loosen the skins, peel and cut in half. Mix bread crumbs, sausage meat and seasoning thoroughly, kneading until sausage meat is completely blended with the bread. When well mixed add the chestnuts and mix in thoroughly without breaking the nut meat. Stuff breast pouch first, sewing up tight, then put the rest of the stuffing in the hollow of the carcass. Basting with cider and water, heated, and in which a little butter has been melted. Cook in moderate oven. Put well greased paper over the turkey inside the double baking pan. It will help to keep the breast well basted.

Thyme and marjoram can be left out if not liked.

Ordinary breakfast sausage is best.

If you don't say this is a feast fit for the gods we will undertake to convince you that you haven't the right kind of a stove.
